Trading and Fluctuations Both are insignificant.

CHANGES FRACTIONAL

Even Professional Operators Are Going Away on Vacation, and Small Room Traders Have Market to Themselves-Bonds Steady.

NEW YORK, August 26.—Nothing worthy or extended comment was accomplished by to-day's meagre trading in stocks, either in the way of distribution of securities or price changes. The volume of dealings fell another noteh towards absolute stagnation with a total for the day of entry bout 20,000 shares, and the cases in which the price fluctuations reached a point were very few. Even the professional operators of larger calibra are going away for delayed vacations, which have been prevented here-tofore by the first of the market, and the smaller class of room traders have one market to themselves. It is the complaint amongst these that when they offer prices down thay are unable to force any trenewal of liquidation, and they seem need supporting orders, while if they attempt a turn on the long side of the market they are unable to force any trenewal of liquidation, and they seem need supporting orders, while if they attempt a turn on the long side of the market they are unable to find a salifactory market to realize on at any advance in prices. The understone of to-day's market was heavy, but the only appear treason for this was that yested of the market they are understone of to-day's market was beavy, but the only appear treason for the was that yested of the stream of the financial district is centered upon the money market rather than upon stocks. There is continued willingness to lead money on time, and rates are strongly held, although there is little demand for lones of this class, owing to the extreme duliness in the stock parket. But commercial paper of the lituation, to-day's rise to $6.5.3 cents an ounce marking the high-set level touched since November of 1991.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The opening of the stock market was exceedingly tame, although fractional improvement in places reflected to a very moderate extent the strength shown in London and the rally of the previous aftenoos. It was difficult to trace any transactions other than those of from traders, and the commission houses were almost without orders.

THE SECOND HOUR:

In the second hour the market continued to sag without much pressure beyond some selling by traders in such sections as Missouri Pactida. Rock Island and Paul of a not very formidallo character. At the second of the second to the character of the second of the much help.

There seemed to be some pressure in Amaignameted Copper from Jewiscohn brokers, to judge by II. A. Harrison's selling. This would be in line with the goueral belief that friedd interests do not want the price advanced at

THE OLOSING:
The stock market was one of the duliest of the year. Frices moved irregularly, but the fluctuations were within narrow limits, and a flurily good undertone was maintained. The sharp advance in Colorado Fuel and Iron was the only feature of the day. The market closed quiet and firm.

FOREIGNERS TO LEAVE FOR HOME

Mr. Yohannan Bids Farewell to His Friends—Ladies Send Presents.

The two Persian ministers, Rev. Isaac Yohannan and Rev. Michael Sayad, who have been in this country for the past six years studying for the Christian ministry, will leave next Tuesday for their native land. They will sail from New York and will be two months in reaching their destination. They go to work among

York and will be two months in reaching their destination. They go to work among the Mohammedans.

Mr. Yohannan has written to Dr. James P. Smith a touching letter bidding farewell to him and his other dear friends in Richmond. He speaks of Virginia as his adopted land, declaring that here he has gotten his education; here ordained for the gospel ministry; here naturalized as an American citizen. "For all these reasons,' he says, "I am under lasting obligations to all my dear friends; to the Unden Seminary, where I have been educated; to the professors who have taught me so faithfully and patiently; to the Prosbytery who ordained me; to the churches and good people who have helped mo; to the homes where I have been entertained so kindly, and to the church who so nobly undertook to help me in my work. Also, I feel under lasting obligation to the good, kind laddes and societies, who have been great comfort to me and help. The only thing I can do In return for all my friends of strangerness is to pray, "May the Lord bless and reward you abundantly."

Some lady frinds of Mr. Sayad, who, like Mr. Yohannan, laft home and family to come to this country to study, have packed a box for him to take to his little daughter, who is now six years old. In the box are three dolls, one dressed as an American young lady, with each garment carefully made in the prevailing fashion, one dressed as an infant, and one as a little boy. The box contains also a complete outfit of American clothes for the little girl. Needless to say, she will be much delighted with her presents from a foreign land.
